Creative Education Through Music & Storytelling

Finding Your Voice (Private & Semi-Private Classes)

Veteran storyteller, singer, and master teaching artist Laurie McIntosh (aka Story Laurie) is now offering classes for people who wish to develop their confidence in public speaking, whether telling a story for the sake of entertainment and enjoyment, hoping to better understand themselves and the world around us, or for specific advocacy and outreach efforts. Playful, engaging classes help YOU to find your voice.

Specific skills that are taught:

- Developing a clear story line that your audience can easily follow, whether a story told for fun, for creativity's sake, for advocacy purposes – or all of the above.
- For speeches, developing a digital presentation with images that support the ideas that you wish to convey.
- Public speaking skills such as: eye contact, pacing, gesture.
- Centering exercises & tips to help you overcome any potential (& totally natural!) stage fright.

Let's Make Music! (Private, Semi-Private, and Small Group Classes)

Do you love to sing, but don't feel totally confident doing so in front of others? Have you ever wondered what it would be like to take a song idea and actually bring it to life as a complete song that you can sing & maybe even play on a ukulele? Then Let's Make Music!

In these highly engaging, hands-on workshops, Story Laurie will help you:

- Develop your confidence in singing (& not just in the shower!)
- Help you write your own original songs!
- Provide expert advice on how to perform like a pro
